

BLACK SWANS AND COBRAS: GEOHAZARDS AND RISKS IN A UK CONTEXT

Saturday 25th January 2020

1.00pm to 4.00pm

Great North Museum: Hancock, Barras Bridge, Newcastle upon Tyne NE2 4PT

Featuring an afternoon of talks by leading experts on the geohazards that keep HM Government awake at night!

Helen Reeves (British Geological Survey) *The UK Natural Hazards Partnership—a trusted voice for advice on hazard and risk (title to be confirmed)

David Kerridge (British Geological Survey) *Northern Lights, Cosmic Frights

Charlotte Vye-Brown (British Geological Survey) *Development of volcanic eruption planning for the UK and its overseas territories

Dan Normandale (Environment Agency) *Rising tides and storm surges—coastal flood risk in a changing climate

Jeff Warburton (Durham University) *Upland landslides - bless 'em all, the long and the short and the tall

Non-members welcome and attendance is free of charge, participants will be asked to register on arrival.

For further information about Yorkshire Geological Society events see <http://www.yorksgeolsoc.org.uk/>